2. Homework routine similar to High School	 it is important to develop children's independence. Currently we ask that children complete their homework on their own unless previously discussed with the class teacher, we will be continuing with this next year. 2. Whilst we acknowledge the importance of getting the children ready for High School, it is not feasible for the teachers to set homework each night, as they will not have the time during the day to mark the homework and return it to the children. For each homework set you will be able to break it down into chunks so that your child can do a bit each night to get them into a routine.
