

Beechwood Primary School Behaviour and Discipline Policy

1 Rationale

1.1 The purpose of this document is to establish what constitutes appropriate behaviour and to make clear the strategies that the school uses to ensure that those expectations are achieved. In consultation with children, staff and parents/carers we aim to establish a system of rules, rewards and sanctions at the centre of which safeguards each child's right to learn undisturbed by disruptive behaviour and to nurture the children's sense of responsibility for each other, their school and the wider community.

2 Purpose

- 2.1 To ensure that we provide an environment where children can learn and teachers can teach without disruption.
- 2.2 To actively involve the children in devising and upholding the school rules.
- 2.3 To reward positive behaviour and to recognise in concrete terms the contribution the children make to the ethos of the school.
- 2.4 To have a consistent approach from all members of staff towards the children in their care.
- 2.5 To open up clear lines of communication between home and school so that shared expectations are realised and home and school work together for the child's benefit.
- 2.6 To have a clear policy for steps to raise positive behaviour.
- 2.7 The ultimate consequence for persistent and severe behaviour issues is exclusion see Appendix  $\ensuremath{\mathcal{C}}$

3 Guidelines for behaviour in the classroom

- 3.1 At the beginning of the school year, each class will discuss and agree upon a set of 5 or 6 classroom rules which are age appropriate. These rules will be displayed prominently in the classroom. Rules are positive rather than negative. E.g. "talk quietly" rather than "do not shout".
- 3.2 It is the responsibility of the class teacher to ensure that all teaching assistants and supply teachers are made aware of the classroom rules. Rules are prominently displayed in each class to ensure all adults & children adhere to them.
- 3.3 Class teachers will refer to these rules throughout the school year, reinforcing when children are upholding them.

All staff will reward appropriate behaviour through the use of house points.

- 3.4 Class teachers develop a system of rewards and sanctions appropriate to the age of the children in their class. These are to be linked with the whole school House Points system so that totals can be collated on a weekly basis in order to reward the winning house and build a sense of community amongst the children. This system is displayed alongside the classroom rules. The use of rewards outweigh consequences. The focus is on rewarding those children who are following the classroom rules.
- 3.5 Rewards or sanctions are not removed once they have been issued. Parents will be informed of the classroom rules for their child's class once they have been established. We aim to involve parents in supporting our school policy. Contact will be made with parents should any pattern appear in a child's behaviour.

4 Guidelines for behaviour at break times and lunch times

- 4.1 A set of whole school rules and playtime rules have been devised by the children. These are displayed prominently in the hall, the library, the corridors and the playground windows (see Appendix A). All staff will reward appropriate behaviour through the use of house points.
- 4.2 The school has adopted a yellow and red card system for dealing with persistent
- inappropriate behaviour (see Appendix B).5 Guidelines for general behaviour around school
  - 5.1 The children are expected to walk around the school calmly and sensibly, paying respect to all members of the school community.
    - All staff will reward appropriate behaviour through the use of house points.

6 Guidelines for behaviour outside of school

- 6.1 Subject to the behaviour policy, teachers may discipline pupils for misbehaviour when the pupil is:
  - taking part in any school-organised or school-related activity or
    - travelling to or from school or
    - wearing school uniform or
  - in some other way identifiable as a pupil at the school.
- 6.2 Or misbehaviour at any time, whether or not the conditions above apply, that:
  - could have repercussions for the orderly running of the school or

- poses a threat to another pupil or member of the public or
- could adversely affect the reputation of the school.
- 6.3 In all cases of misbehaviour the teacher can only discipline the pupil on school premises or elsewhere when the pupil is under the lawful control of the staff member.

7 Monitoring and review

7.1 This policy is monitored on a day-to-day basis by Mrs Snell, who reports to governors about the effectiveness of the policy on request.

The agreed consequences are:

Closer supervision at playtimes which might involve walking with the adult on duty for 5 minutes (particularly with younger children)

Standing away from the situation for a set time (e.g. 5 minutes)

Yellow / Red card system

Loss of playtime under supervision

APPENDIX B

Yellow and Red Card System:

Persistent or severe failure to follow the whole school rules results in a yellow card. We follow this procedure:

Yellow cards, once issued to a child, should be given to the headteacher (or Mrs Snell the head's absence) – this MUST happen on the day the card has been issued (parents are not notified at this stage)

Receiving two yellow cards in a five day period leads to a red card, which results in letter home.

After two letters home in one half term, the parents are asked to come into school and spend dinner time with their child.

For some children alternative behaviour systems may be needed. This will be set in accordance with the needs of the child.

APPENDIX C

Exclusions: Reasons for exclusion are in line with Halton's Policy.

The ultimate consequence of inappropriate behaviour is exclusion. This will usually be for a fixed term. The length of the exclusion will depend on factors leading up to the incident and is at the headteacher's discretion with governor agreement. A child is excluded when his or her behaviour puts other children at risk, or is a serious repeated breach of school rules or could adversely affect the reputation of the school. Occasionally, it may be appropriate for a child to be excluded at lunchtimes because his or her behaviour is unacceptable.

Exclusions are always a last resort and a difficult process. In order to assist a young child (primary age) to understand the link between their behaviour and the exclusion we ask parents to support their child and the school by coming immediately. This also helps to keep everyone safe.

In situations relating to exclusion, the welfare and educational entitlement of the majority of children who may be adversely affected by the behaviour of the child to be excluded would be the prime consideration.

Exclusion will never come "out of the blue". Only in very exceptional circumstances, e.g. when the safety of others in compromised, would this happen. Parents will be warned before the event that further inappropriate behaviour on the part of the child will result in exclusion.
